Project:- Emmbi.

Emmbi project is a product designed for bag making companies, aimed at enhancing their manufacturing processes and product quality. It likely incorporates features such as automated cutting, stitching, and sealing, as well as advanced material handling capabilities. The project may also include quality control mechanisms to ensure the bags meet specified standards, along with software integration for production planning and inventory management. Overall, the Emmbi project aims to streamline bag manufacturing operations, improve efficiency, and deliver high-quality products to customers.

Project:- Elam Trading.

Elam Trading is an MLM-based project where agents can register and recruit multiple members under them. Each time an agent successfully adds a new member, they earn commissions and performance-based bonuses. The system supports a tiered structure, allowing agents to grow their network and income. Earnings increase as the agent's downline expands. The platform promotes growth through referrals and team building.
